With 2 presenters, very good interaction and knowledge between these 2.

This was my favorite session. The speakers presented well. The feedback exercise we did with a partner was very effective and hands on.

Very good speakers, Energizing presentation. Good ideas & ways to view not only my reations to my employees & their behaviors but ways to handle situations. We were told that we would be able to attend a webinar but I have not received the information as of yet.

Great session. Learned a lot.

The best that I attended, however room was to small and people were turned away.

Very entertaining and thought provoking.

Did more about why we don't give and receive good feedback, I wanted more tips/advice on how to do it.

As noted at the beginning of this survey, the two presenters were excellent and very engaging of their audience.

this was the best topic of all. The presenters were awesome and easily made their point with the group

Very fun and engaging session and I took some good information away with me. Only complaint is that the room was way too small. Many people sat on the floor and many attempted to attend, but couldn't. I am glad I got to this one early.

Very well done.

This was by far my favorite session of the entire conference! I only wish the room had been larger - there were a LOT of people standing around the room and sitting on the floor.

Great session! Would love to see them again.

Next to Captain Abrashoff's presentation, this was the most relevant, informative presentation I had the pleasure of attending. The speakers complemented each other very well. The stand-up exercise was do-able and well received. I am going to recommend them to my chapter's board as a future speaker and hope to bring them to my company as well.

Liked the back and forth between the two

Absolutely excellent speaker! Should have been a keynote!

Room too small for the number of attendees--the presenters were very informative and engaging, which made having to stand for over an hour bearable.

Good session overall. The speakers are very dynamic and good advice on giving and receiving feedback. I believe some areas were glossed over due to the time constraints - I had a hard time accepting looking past the delivery of feedback even if it's inappropriate. We coach on the importance of good delivery, so maybe we missed some info here.

Would be great for a longer session. Didn't like the audience participation at first but it was good. The time ran out too soon. The room was not so good for this as it was packed.

There was standing room only for this session.

Very good session. I hope they are back next year!

Presenters played off one another nicely. Materials on line were different than handouts during the session. Interaction with crowd was good. Would like to see more of their materials in the future.
